

LANL assists with resource and job event in Espanola

November 1, 2012

The Espanola Valley Chamber of Commerce and SL Start/New Mexico Works recently held a Community Resource and Job Fair event that attracted more than 500 people. The four-hour event was designed to help attendees meet potential employers, discover new employment resources, and increase expertise in job-search skills and resume development.

The Laboratory was there to provide those interested in entrepreneurial activities with information on the wide variety of assistance available through our economic-development programs.

For more information on how LANS/LANS-supported economic-development efforts could benefit your business, contact Vangie Truillo with the Community Programs Office at (505) 665-4400 or vangie@lanl.gov.
